DETAILED ACTION

1. A telephone call was made to David A. Tucker on Thursday, June 28, 2007 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Election/Restrictions

2. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- A. Claims 1 - 8, 39, 45, and 51, drawn to a group robot system where detection of an object by a sensing robot results in the movement of other, non-detecting robots to outside an area of search, classified in class 700, subclass 251.
 - B. Claims 9 - 16, 40, 46, and 52, drawn to a group robot system where detection of an object by a sensing robot results in the movement of other, non-detecting robots to an initial position, classified in class 700, subclass 247.
 - C. Claims 17 - 56 are drawn to a group robot system that uses various hierarchical communication methods, classified in class 700, subclass 249.
3. Inventions A and B are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct if they do not overlap in scope and are not obvious variants, and if it is shown that at least one subcombination is separately usable. In the instant case, subcombination B has separate utility such as a single target robot search system. See MPEP § 806.05(d).
4. Inventions A and C are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct if they do not overlap in scope and are not obvious variants, and if it is shown that at least one subcombination is separately usable. In the instant case, subcombination C has separate utility such as a robotic communication relay mechanism. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

5. Inventions B and C are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct if they do not overlap in scope and are not obvious variants, and if it is shown that at least one subcombination is separately usable. In the instant case, subcombination C has separate utility such as a robotic communication relay mechanism. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

The examiner has required restriction between subcombinations usable together. Where applicant elects a subcombination and claims thereto are subsequently found allowable, any claim(s) depending from or otherwise requiring all the limitations of the allowable subcombination will be examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. See MPEP § 821.04(a). Applicant is advised that if any claim presented in a continuation or divisional application is anticipated by, or includes all the limitations of, a claim that is allowable in the present application, such claim may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application.

6. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species: Species I, which includes claims 27 – 30, 42, 48, and 54, whose subject matter is a group robot system with varying resolutions of sensing on the robots; Species II, which includes claims 31 – 34, 43, 49, and 55, whose subject matter is a group robot system with different types of sensors on the robots; and Species III, which includes claims 35 – 38, 44, 50, and 56, whose subject matter is a group robot system with different methods of processing sensor information on the robots. The species are independent or distinct because they claim different species of sensing objects using a group robot system. The differences in species put an undue burden of search upon the examiner.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 17 –26, 41, 47, and 53 are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species.

MPEP § 809.02(a).
